PHILOSOPHY CRASH COURSE

Are you philosophical?

If you are wondering how to teach philosophy as part of the new Norfolk Agreed Syllabus 2019 then this is the course for you.

Key Stage 1 and 2

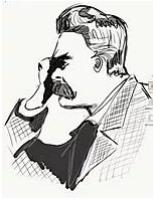

The new Norfolk Agreed Syllabus 2019 has been launched and teachers and pupils around Norfolk and beyond are expected to understand complex philosophical concepts. John Semmens, a curriculum writer for the new support materials is presenting a 'Philosophy Crash Course' to introduce teachers to the subject itself. The 2 hour training covers the history of Christian philosophy, including some teaching activities and some ready-to-go lesson plans to introduce you and your school to philosophical thinking.

Monday 23rd of March at 1 – 3pm

The Lodge @ White Woman Lane Junior School, Sprowston, Norwich.

£50 per delegate, to book call:

What will be covered:

- The history of philosophy in a nut shell, in an easy to follow presentation complete with activities to get you thinking.
- Explanations of complex ideas like ontology, teleology and metaphysics plus teaching activities to help you explain them to your children and staff.
- 8 fully scripted plans, complete with resources to start your journey into philosophy teaching in KS1 and 2.

Philosophy can be an intimidating subject to approach, this friendly and informal course aims at breaking the ice and then looking at the subject with fresh eyes. No experience is necessary.
